

Abstract:

From Renewable Feedstock to Bio-based Solutions – Lars Börger, Neste (Suisse) SA

Neste changed its name from Neste Oil to Neste back in 2015. The presentation will give you an insight of why that was the case. In a short period of time Neste managed to shift its company focus from a classical refining company to the largest producer of renewable Diesel and thereby one of the largest handler of renewable carbons, allowing customers to make sustainable choices. Neste is now entering into a next phase of growth in areas beyond pure road traffic applications, which includes the search for opportunities in bio-based chemicals. First examples will be given.
